MR. DENSON; DEDICATED, DETERMINED AND

NOTEWORTHY

This year the Yearbook staff has chosen a man who is really dedicated to teaching his students. We have chosen Leon M. Denson for our 1987-1988 yearbook dedication. Let's take a step "back in time" to look at his past. After graduating from OHS in 1955, he went on to Samford University to continue his education. Mr. Denson started working on his Bachelor of Arts degree and received it in 1958, and then got his Masters in 1960. After college he came back to OHS Mr. Denson has been teaching government and economics at Oxford for twenty-four years now and we hope he plans to teach for many more years.

Mr. Denson also has his own personal interests, like all of us. You wouldn't think he would be the kind of guy that would love exotic cars, but he does. If you were to go into his room you would see two beautiful cars that will catch your attention quickly. These two cars are a Porshe and a Lamborghini. Mr. Denson claims these automobiles are his, but I just don't know if we can believe that. He also has an interest in pictures of famous buildings such as the White House, Pentagon, Congress buildings, and many more. Mr. Denson is really up-to-date with his clothing, you would never see him in an outfit that does not show professionalism.

Mr. Denson has many friends on and off campus. The faculty is appreciative of what he has done and is doing at OHS with his teaching. We, the students, are also grateful for what he has done to make government interesting.

After undergoing open heart surgery in the summer of "87", and a semester at home to recuperate, Mr. Denson came back bringing to us a new appreciation of his subject.

Monents In Time

The doors flew open, the students flooded into the halls, and another school year began. But this year would be different since OHS started a week earlier than other area schools. This may seem trivial, but for the seniors of '88 this met they would be "P.C. Bound" a week ahead of everyone else.

Additional features included, an earlier homeroom that started before first period instead of following second, new science labs, and a much needed library. The business department received new computers which were unique in that there were none like them in other schools throughout the state. Last, but not least, during the first football game the band assumed their position on the field wearing new uniforms which gave their performance an added touch.

An undercurrent of excitement came along with the beginning of football season. A pep club was formed to cheer our team on to victory. Our defense took on the catchy name "Black Death", while the offense became the "Yellow Jacket Moving Company".

Homecoming came and the usual festivities took place. The seniors had their parade, with no reported accidents. The big night arrived, and Ginger Cruse and Gina Turner walked off the field wearing the crowns. The only disappointment resulting from Homecoming 1987 was our 21-20 loss to Alexandria.

The next event was Senior Night. The seniors had another parade, making them the first class to have had two earlymorning parades in one year. At the pep rally, the senior walk-through proved, as usual, to be an emotional experience. Mrs. Martin read the class poem, making the seniors realize that their time "on the hill" was almost gone. Kelly Derusha was voted team sponsor and Senior Night went down in the books as a big success, thanks to our 21-7 victory over Tacksonville.

Who's Who came and everyone was in a rush setting up the perfect picture corner and getting the materials to prepare the gym for the night that was ahead. When the moment finally arrived everyone found the gym floor completely covered with plastic. Its purpose was apparent (the new gym floor was not to be scratched) but it also caused many near spills to the ground. The students were presented their honors, and needless to say this was another event that came off with no flaws!

These were only a few of the many Moments in Time we have trapped for you; rum the page for more.

Moments pass, time moves on, but memories never fade.

"Time may change me, but I can't change time."

Lost, yesterday, somewhere between sunrise and sunset, two golden hours, each set with sixty diamond minutes. No reward is offered for they are gone forever. Horace Mann

CONSTITUTION DAY

1987 was the 200th year of the ratification of the Constitution O.H.S. celebrated this occasion with two contests. The first was a week long trivia contest for ALL Oxford students, but someone didn't tell Trey Hanner that it was for everyone. He won the contest several days in a row, and won several different prizes. Contest number two was a door decorating contest for all the homerooms. Mrs. Adcock's homeroom took the gold in this event. The students and faculty also had a visit by Alabama Secretary of State, Glen Browder. He spoke on the true American Spirit, and what the Constitution does for us, the students of O H S. Other personalities involved in the celebration were; Donald Holmes, State Senator Destrict 22, Brenda Reaves, representing the Board of Education; Mayor Smith; Mr. Higgins; and Dr Griffin, speaking for Mr. Cassidy, Superintendent of Oxford City Schools. The ceremony was held on the football field and the students, dressed in red, white, and blue, watched intently as the Military Police Honor Guard, presented the flag. The SGA officers spoke during the ceremony and Gidget Barker sang the "Star Spangled Banner." Scott Batey, President of FCS closed the program with a prayer of thanksgiving, and the band played patriotic songs while multitudes of red, white, and blue baloons were released into the breeze

RED, WHITE AND BLUE ALL THE WAY

1 smecoming

As Homecoming week rolled around, excitement filled the air Homerooms began decorating their doors while classes started preparing their floats. Candidates for Homecoming queen were announced, and the week was underway. The after-school hours were not spent doing homework by most, but instead, students met at their designated headquarters where they put forth great effort to prepare "the greatest Homecoming float ever. The seniors worked especially hard on their float, only to wake up the morning of the parade to find it trashed. Several seniors took a 'leave of absence" from school in order to restore the float to its original appearance

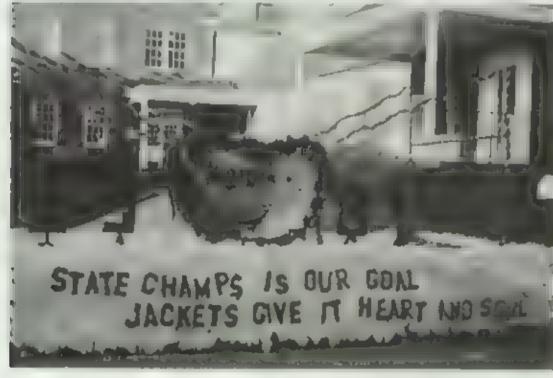

At the game at was announced that the seniors had taken first place among all the other floats. Thursday afternoon the parade made its way through downtown Oxford, Some special appearances were made by Batman and Robin. Not only was the senior float escorted by self-appointed man protectors" but, we got a glimpse of some of our very own gentlemen "filling in" for Alexandria's Homecoming Court

Friday morning's agenda consisted of a Senior Parade, an earlier pep rally, where Opus I put us "in the mood During bartle cry, the gym was completely rolled with toilet paper streamers hanging from the rafters on the ceiling. But the main attraction was Friday night at the game. Gina Turner was crowned Miss Homecoming, and Ginger Cruise was crowned Jr. High Miss Homecoming, The excitement was deluted some-what after the game, for our team felt the agony of defeat after their lose of 21-20 to Alexandria. Following the game the excitement was renewed for our dance was once again a Friday night success

HERE THEY COME

Tiina Kalliomaki

This year at Oxford, we received a colorful group of exchange students. We had two students from Guatemala that stayed a little over a month during our Christmas season. These two were Sandy Valdez and Karla Quan. Oxford also had Tiina Kalliomaki, an exchange student from Finland. She came in the summer of eighty-seven and stayed the entire year.

Sandy and Karla got to see how Americans live, but Tiina, by staying a year, got the pleasure of becoming an American teenager. She became involved in many different activities. She went to school and took the same classes that many of our seniors did. She played soccer and basketball here at Oxford. Tiina attended our Prom and also went through our graduation ceremonies.

Each of them were given an experience that they will never forget. And each of them gave us an experience that we will never forget.

New Additions in Science

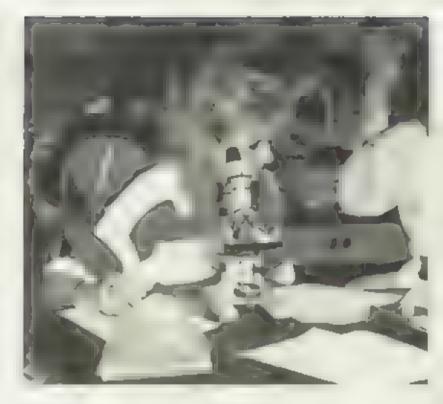

Oxford High School can be proud of a great new addition this year. We now have science labs, thanks to funds sent to us by the state, which are used by biology, chemistry and physics. The construction started this summer and about midway through the year it was completed and well worth the wait

The new labs have many uses. They are used by chemistry to experiment with chemicals and elements, biology uses them to disect and examine organisms with microscopes, and physics use them to conduct laser experiments. We hope to receive additional funds so that we may add to out lab and make it high-tech

We the students and faculty, should be very proud that we are among a few who are fortunate enough to have such a facility. Please, show our OHS pride when using it. Let's take care of it, enjoy it, and protect it.

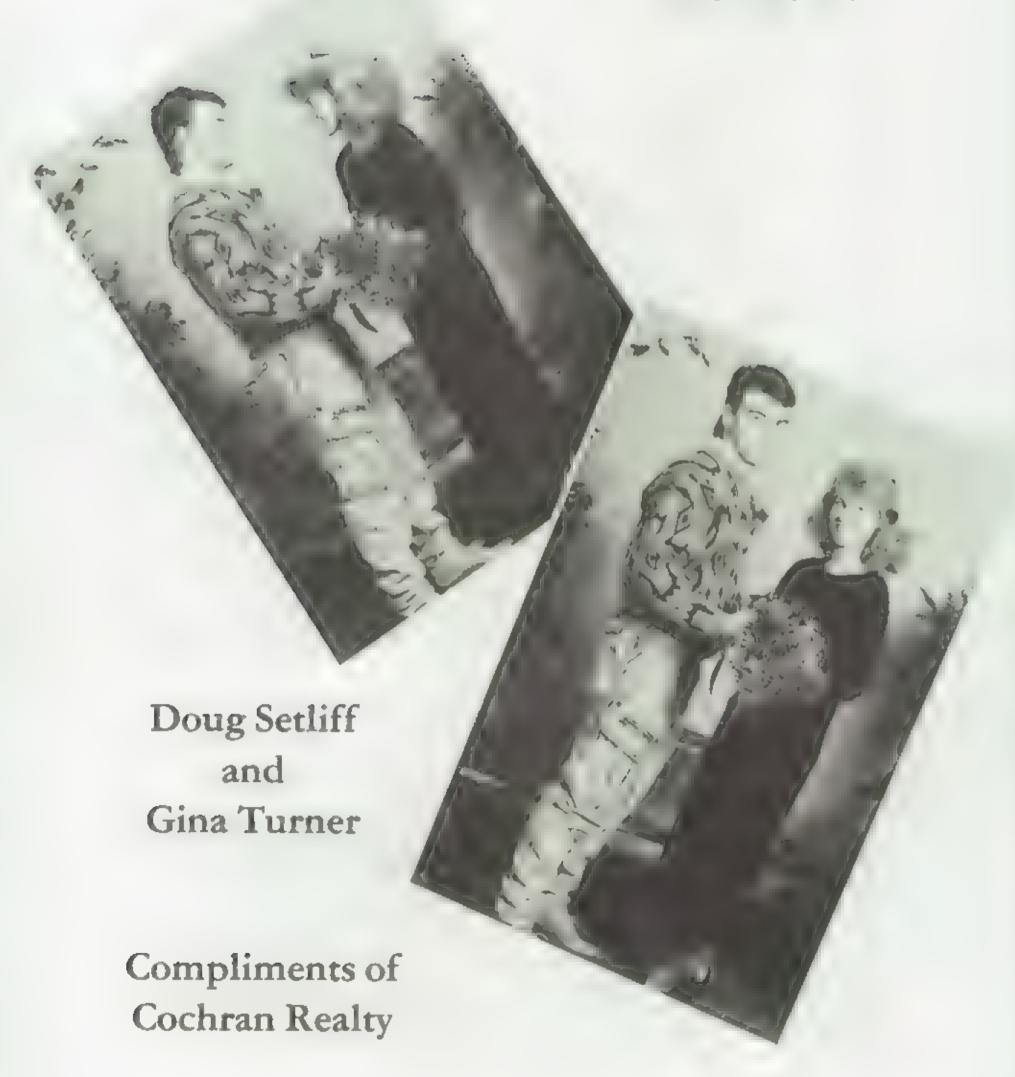

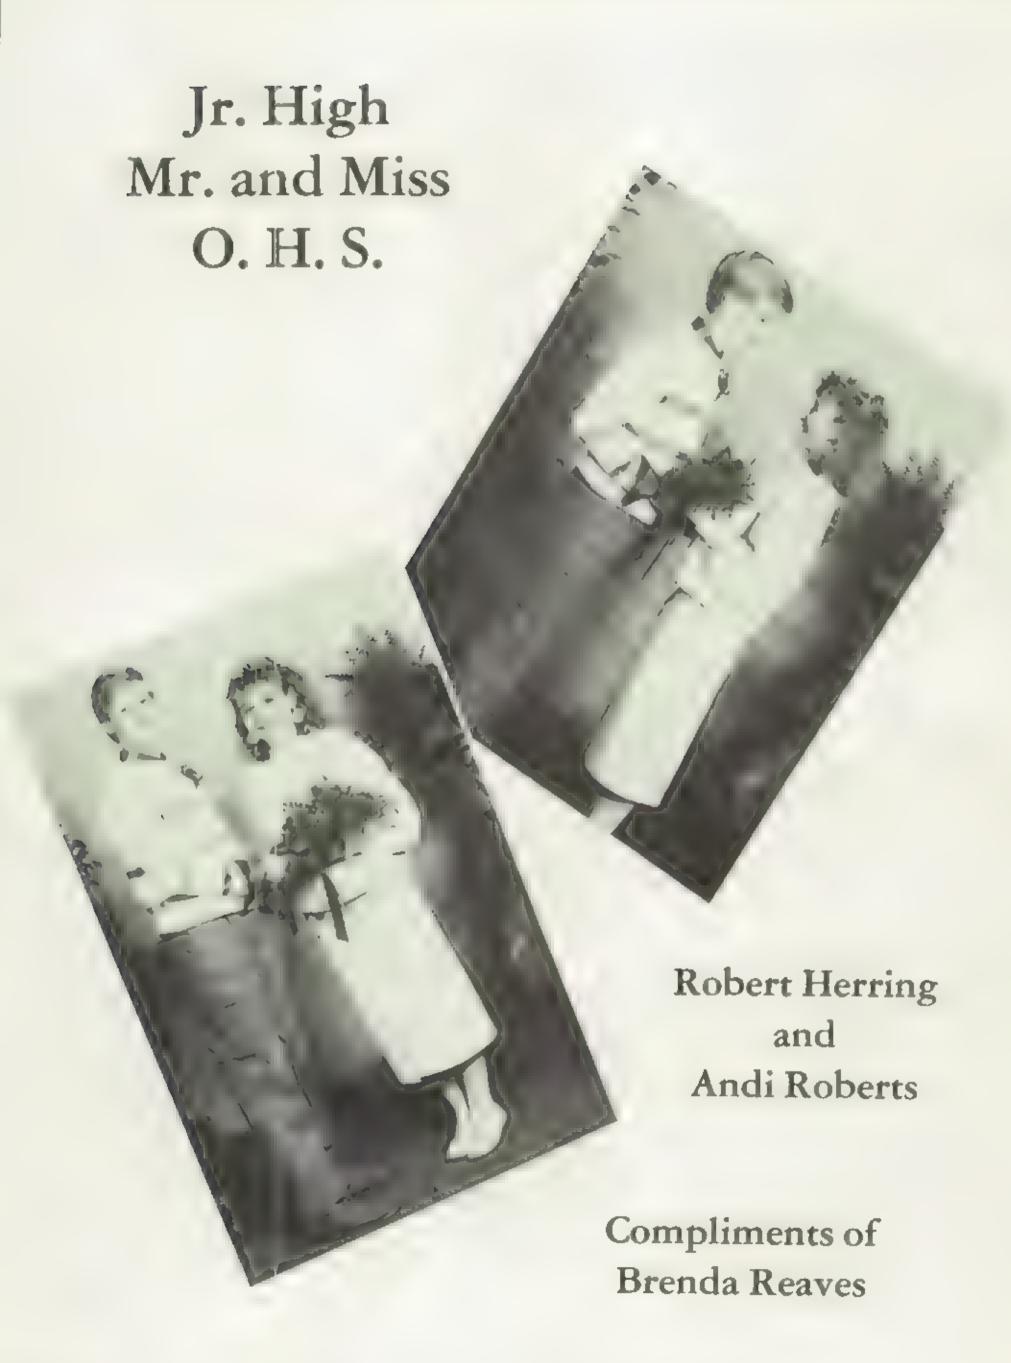

Mr. and Miss O. H. S.

At summer camp in Auburn they placed in the top five out of seventy squares attending. At OHS football games, pep racies, and basketball games they were there to support the Jackets with signs and cheers. They won the State Fair Competition in Montgomery and the ICF Regional Competition in Vincent, AI

At the IOCC Nationals in December, they placed fifth in the nation and were named the squad with best jumps.

The Oxford High School Baseball team had a very successful year. The season began with the Calhoun County Baseball Tournament, in which Oxford won first place, the next major achievement was the Area 12 title. Winning the area guaranteed the team a place in the state play-offs. However, a trip to Pinson Valley proved disappointing.

Gary Mason and Pete Mackey were elected by their teammates as most valuable players and team captians. Mackey was also the recipient of the Golden Glove Award Ray Whiteside received the Big Stirk Award with a batting average of .525. Mike Watts received the Most Improved Player Award

SCIENCE CLUBS:

Anything but Ordinary

There are three science clubs, the newest being YOUNG ASTRONUATS. The Young Astronuats Program uses the excitement and challenge of space exploration and development to excite students' interest in science, mathematics and technology, and to encourage excellence in these and other fields as well

Another important part of our science department is the Science Olympiad which was held at The University of North Alabama in Florence, on April 2, 1988

MATH CLUBS

The Math Club is designed to give students a broader view of the math used in the world, today. This club is open to all students who are taking higher level mathematics at Oxford. The Math Clubs members meet about once a month to do various activities dealing with math. This year they talked to different engineers and visited the Stringfellow Hospital chemical tab in some of their activities.

MATH CLUB Row 1 S. Barey, D. Deshler, S. King, K. Reid, P. Ware, Row 2, Mrs. Phillips-sporage, C. Austin, M. Rhodes, I. Padgett, J. Taylor, J. Petrus

The students who participate in our schools various math teams work very hard to compete in math competitions. These students come to school early in the morning to practice and to be drilled on their math skills. This is done to sharpen their edge on the competition of other schools.

This year, the math teams competed in four different interscholastic competitions. They competed at Vescavia, Samford, Jacksonville, and Grissom Schools. The team members competed in both individual and team events and had very succeediful results.

A special congratulations goes to Jason Burnam, who won the MATHCOUNTS comptition at Jacksonville

GANCEL: STRIVING TO BE THE BEST

Gancel is an organization of civic-minded young women, who wish to help the community. Each member must pledge to uphold the principles of caring, sharing, understanding and friendship. This pledge is upheld through several annual activities, such as Special Olympics and the Christmas party for needy children. In addition, Gancel collected donations for the Southern Plantation Girls Home

In May of each year, a meeting for all interested girls is held. Then, after a lot of questioning, new members are selected Following a grueling day of initiation, each new member is inducted and is "adopted by an old member

This year, for the 1988 Yearbook staff, was a unique one that will probably never happen again! Our year started in July when the new staff went to the University of Alabama for the Taylor Publishing Workshop. During the day the new and the old staffers went to be seminars and during the nights, parties were thrown. The staff was housed in the Turwiler dorm with all the other high school staffs from around the state. Members of the QH6 yearbook staff headed by Lee and Shannon threw a pizza party for the fourth and fifth fluor that soon will not be forgotten by the University staff.

The school year began and thoughtf eagerly started going on ad sales. This year, sales were at an all time high with David Deshler and Jeremy White as the top sales/team.

Deadline times came and went and sometimes didn't work out too well, but our fearless editor and our sponsor pulled things regether and we never missed our date.

The staff held-our annual puzza party at Pizza. Hur and there was plenty of food and free time to "let down," after our first big deadline. The year went smooth for the staff and Mrs. Nolson's nerves are still in tact. This year that staff was one of many diverse personalities as you will observe as you turn the pages of our TIME TRAPPAR.

A NEW HOME IN A CENTRAL AREA

One of Oxford High School's new editions this year is our library. It took a while for construction to end and furniture, to arrive, but it was well worth the wait. Being in the middle of campus, it is convenient for everyone to use. The library has a film viewing room, computer, offices, conference area, and periodical room. The library's lower level is occupied by study carrels for individual use.

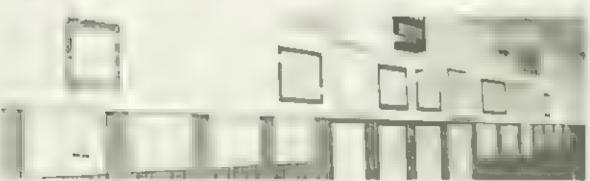

The school will continue to add new books and filmstrips for our use, and to update our resource materials. Thanks goes to Mr. Cassidy, and the Oxford City Board of Education for providing us such a wonderful library. We are very fortunate to have such a library and should use it as often as possible.

The 1960's would have been a great time to enjoy life. I was very young, then, but I have always been interested in this time. I loved the style of music during the 60's The mores were changing and people were becoming more liberal. The Peace Movement and the rallies would have been interesting, also. Of course, a teacher in the 60's might have had a time with reprimanding his long-haired students into getting hair cuts! A. Adcock

I would love to go back to 1964. I was a Sr. in high school. I'd love to relive the state tournament in basketball, the Senior Play, Sr. Night, Jr.-Sr. Banquet, and Graduation. In the fall of '64, my dream of going to college became a reality. I enrolled at Jax State, moved in the dorm and was on my own for the first time in my life. I met my husband the second night in college at freshmen orientation. Oute naturally, he was spellbound by my charm, and he's been hanging around since then. P. Embry

Actually, I would hate to be "trapped" in any one year or in any one place. If I have to pick one, I'll pick 1830 in Boston But please let me return to Oxford, 1988, occasionally so that I can enjoy my color television, my hot tub, and my Reebok walking shoes

In Loving Memory Of David Alan Lang

Whenever asked what
"ALF" stood for, Alan
would gladly respond,
"Alan Lang Friend," describing his personality clearly.

October 1, 1970 - February 21, 1988

Alan was a wiz at computer and video games, and he could be found at Moore's shooting pool of at the bowling alley in Anniston Concert — going and listening to music " at top volume " was a recognizable characteristic about Alan. He loved playing cards, and just being with his friends.

Alan was always eager to learn new things, master them, and then move on to bigger and better things. Alan was a rare find in this day and age. He would always go the longest mile for his friends and family. If I had to pick a favorite time for Alan, it would be the time spent with his close friends, along with his many trips to Panama City. These times and his friends were very special to him.

"Live life to the fullest while you can for you never know when your time will come and God will call you home."

Peggy Lang

For Alan, With Love

In the prime of his life, he was taken from us. He had not a chance to fight it or put up a fuss.

I know that God had a special plan that had to be But here on earth it is so hard to see.

Alan enjoyed life to the fullest but he had to leave, It was just his time, this is what we must believe.

His memory will go on with all his friends Because the friendship he showed extended to all ends.

I'm sure he would tell you to "Take Care" and "Have Fun" For the battle against life Alan has won.

SOPHOMORES

This year the sophomore class has spent a for of TIME getting in countle out tres with a to the arrow he can form the grade girl made her entrance into autobody cass. Then getting into trot ble for leading our own heers. Some some or night in cheer within the courtesy of the local fait food restaurants. Before they knew it they were assigned to sit with their classes at funch. When some of the students were asked to describe that year they said, "It was great in only two years left and the best is year to come." Or as one sou dent said, "It was just another splinter as we slide down the bannister of life.

We are strong
We are mighty

A great athlete has something extra. So does a great bank.

Most athletes develop the fundamental skills necessary to compete in their sport—strength, speed, coordination, and experience.

But the ones who stand out have something extra. A little more quickness, or savvy, or determination. Banks are the same way.

Most banks have developed the fundamental skills. But the ones who stand out, like Central, have something extra. Like extended hours, Saturday banking, or discounts on loans for qualifying customers.

Who's the winner in the long run? You are. Bank at Central

I-20 at S R. 21 25 Elm Street Oxford, AL 36203 831-9480 Heavenly Father,

As we gather here this evening to recognize the graduating seniors of the class of 1988, we ask dear Lord that You might place a guiding hand on the lives and hearts of each individual and lead us as we go our separate ways. Help us to accept the responsibilities that we are now expected to bare and grant us the wasdom to make the right decisions. We thank you Lord for the many people who have been instrumental in shaping our lives through our high school years. But most of all thank you Lord for always being here when there was no one else to turn to. Go with us now, keep us safe and away from harm. For it is in Your precious name we pray. Amen. Ann Kimsey

Once upon a time not so long ago the 1987-88 school year becam. I veryone was a little reluctant to come back a week earlier than other schools, but once things got under way they went well as to be expected. Lots of new things happened this year. Getting back we saw changes that had taken place inside and out of the campus. The students were together more and they had more school spirit than ever before. Some even said, "This was the best year ever!"

The 1988 Yearbook Staff has tried to capture the moud of every event that you were a part of this year and make those precious moments last forever

My special thanks goes out to these staff members for all the hard work, time and effort they have put forth to make the 1988 Yellow Jacket as uruque as the year itself

Also I would like to give many thanks to Mrs. Nelson, who with out her dedication of hard work and many after hours our deadlines would not have been met. (I don't know what we would do without you Aunt B)

Lastly a big thank you goes out to the people who have gone out of their way to help us throughout the year. To Mr. Higgins and the office workers for their patience and cooperation. To Mr. Bertyhill and Graphic Arts for all the work they did in producing some great background layouts amidst all our confusion. To Hewitt Studios for all the fabulous photography work.

To Midweek for the help they gave us in producing our pictures just in the nick of time, and Jim Robbins and Taylor Publishing Company with our whom the production of the book would not be possible.

I hope the 1988 Yellow Jacket is everything you amicipated it to be. In dosing I want to leave you with this last thought. Remember there is no time like the present, live life to the fullest and never settle for second best!

> Jennifer Pettus Editor 1988 Yellow Jacket
